Second Phase of EYONEDIP Training of Trainers Held in Kobuleti, Georgia

From April 22–28, the second phase of the Training of Trainers (ToT) under the project “Empowering Youth Organizations in Neighborhood East for Digital Inclusion and Peacebuilding” (EYONEDIP, ERASMUS-YOUTH-2025-CB-NE) took place in Kobuleti, Georgia.

The event brought together 20 young participants from Armenia, Georgia, Germany, and Spain for an intensive week of learning, collaboration, and practical experience.

During this second phase, participants explored advanced training topics related to leadership, intercultural cooperation, digital inclusion, and the use of digital tools for peacebuilding. Through interactive sessions, group work, practical exercises, and peer-to-peer learning, they further strengthened their knowledge and facilitation skills. Participant reflections and group discussions also provided an opportunity to exchange experiences and share lessons learned.

The ToT programme consisted of two phases. The first phase, hosted by the Armenian State University of Economics (ASUE) in Armenia, covered topics such as digital literacy, artificial intelligence, principles of peace and conflict resolution, effective communication, and the development of training and facilitation skills.

Building on the knowledge and experience gained throughout both phases, participants prepared action plans for upcoming micro-pilot workshops. These workshops will enable them to apply their newly acquired skills and knowledge in practice and engage other young people in their communities.

During the closing sessions, participants presented their action plans, reflected on their learning experiences, and discussed the next steps in the project.

The second phase was organized in cooperation with the Georgian project partner, Student-Youth Council (SYC), with the dates and venue coordinated jointly.

The project is co-funded by the European Union through the Erasmus+ programme, which supports international cooperation, youth development, and capacity building.
